CCG is the exclusive provider of Team Intelligence<sup>SM</sup>, a program with proven results for leading organizations.

Sage Products

Highly-technical executives needed to implement new global business initiatives and increase productivity while working more effectively as a team. Through CCG's program, executives learned to build trust, increase communication and work more effectively with others. One year later, participants report that the benefits of the program still are helping them reach their goals.

Chicago Cubs

CCG implemented its program for 650 employees to create a winning season. Increased teamwork resulted in employees communicating more proactively and effectively. Long-term results included better customer service, reduced employee turnover and increased accountability and morale from team members.

Kraft Foods

Global senior executives wanted to implement a new strategic plan. CCG provided training and executive coaching workshops that generated new levels of trust and commitment from team members. As a result, executives gained more clarity and a new ability to take action as a global team on their strategic plan.
